Estonia

The Minister for Education and Research signed a regulation that creates a clear and supportive framework for the implementation of preparatory studies. Preparatory education is aimed at young people who, after completing basic education, do not immediately find a place in upper secondary school or vocational training, or who need support to develop their knowledge and skills before moving on to the next level of education.

Georgia

In an open letter, the German Association for Eastern European Studies has spoken out against plans for a radical overhaul of the Georgian higher education system, which aims to bring universities under complete state control. They fear that this will lead to a disconnect from the European higher education system. Georgia has participated in the Bologna Process to date. In addition to degree programmes, VET programmes are also offered there.
